ITS Announces the Release of Optimal Call Management (OCM) Solutions

Barcelona, Spain (15 February 2006): Integrated Telecom Solutions, Inc. (ITS), a Richardson, Texas based telecom solutions company, announces the release of Optimal Call Management Solutions.

ITS Optimal Call Management (OCM) solutions are easy to use intuitive solutions designed to give individual subscribers and owners of group accounts total flexibility in setting the treatment of incoming and outgoing calls as well as text messages. OCM gives corporate managers absolute control over employee phone usage. Quick and easy configuration via the Internet gives managers, and parents, the ability to tailor flexible criteria to manage phone usage.

OCM features Corporate and Parental Controls, Incoming Call Screening, as well as Easy Provisioning tools. Corporate Controls are designed to give businesses control over their employees' mobile phone usage through a set of easy provisioning tools accessed via the Internet. Corporate managers set exceptionally adaptable business rules. Call permissions and filters are applied to outgoing and incoming calls, and managers set choices and preferences for incoming and outgoing call criteria for all group members. Additionally, incoming and outgoing calls are managed based upon subscriber criteria that allow managers to stipulate times when calls are allowed or disallowed.

Using essentially the same tools available to corporate managers, Parental Controls give parents tools to gain quick access and control over their children's phone and SMS usage. Parents can block calls and text messages, or they can set limits on the number of calls their children can receive daily, the length of time allowed on calls per month or allocate an amount of funds available for the child's use for incoming and outgoing calls. Parental Controls is not only about restrictions, more importantly, parents see these features as a practical set of tools for ensuring their children's safety and security.

“For ten years ITS has been providing value-added solutions to global mobile operators,” stated Arshad Syed, CEO of Integrated Telecom Solutions, Inc. “We see our newest product line as a way for mobile operators to gain new customers, reduce churn, offer new services and generate a better ROI. Optimal Call Management Solutions is another unique value-added product that will help mobile operators compete in an increasingly competitive market.”
